Circulation in the Living City Series, Part 1

Historical and Contemporary Transportation Projects in Boston

Saturday, August 14, 1:30 – 4:30 p.m.

Room 151B, Boston Convention and Exhibition Center

(Ticketed event—separate $55 fee and preregistration required. Attendees can also attend the Sunday session without additional fee.)

An old city with a rich and dense urban fabric, Boston has also been reshaped over the centuries by a series of ambitious and transformative public works projects. The Public Works Historical Society program at the APWA Congress will focus on the history of great public works projects in Boston and elsewhere that have provided access and circulation for the city. Planned events include a panel discussion on historical and contemporary transportation projects in Boston focusing on the Big Dig, Central Artery, Storrow Drive, the Southwest Corridor Park and Boston's anti-highway movement.

SPEAKERS:

Karilyn Crockett, PhD, American Studies Program, Yale University, Boston, MA

Michael R. Fein, Assistant Professor of History, Johnson & Wales University, Watertown, MA

Amy D. Finstein, PhD, Visiting Lecturer, History of Art Department, Massachusetts College of Art and Design, Framingham, MA

Clay McShane, PhD, Professor of History, Northeastern University, Boston, MA

Karl Haglund, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Conservation and Recreation

Walking/Riding Tour of Boston

Saturday, August 14, 9:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

(Reservation-only event—preregistration required.)

Preregistrants to the Circulation in the Living City Series, Part 1, are also invited to an optional walking/riding tour of Boston. Depart the Boston Convention Center, walking along the harbor to the Greenway (above the Big Dig), then over to the Esplanade (a park on the Charles on a nineteenth century landfill) via the Common and Beacon Hill and back by Red Line subway and Silver Line subway.

Space is limited to 15 people, and reservations are required. To register for the walking tour, contact Teresa Hon, thon@apwa.net or 800-848-2792, ext. 5224.

The Big Dig

Sunday, August 15, 3 – 4:50 p.m.

Room 150, Boston Convention and Exhibition Center

APWA Past President Robert Albee (and former Director of Engineering and Design for the Central Artery Tunnel Project) will discuss the execution, politics, planning, lessons learned and historical perspective of the Big Dig. A frank discussion of the implications of the project as well as the future will also be shared. Closing remarks will be offered by the current State Secretary of Transportation.

SPEAKERS:

Robert Albee, Managing Director – Tele-Engineering, Vanasse Hangen Brustlin, Inc., Watertown, MA

Jeff Mullan, Secretary and CEO, Massachusetts Department of Transportation

Public Works Historical Society (PWHS) Luncheon, Part 3

Hydraulic Myths, Hydraulic Realities: The Lessons of Nineteenth-Century Boston Harbor

Monday, August 16, 2010, Noon – 1:30 p.m.

Room 205C, Boston Convention and Exhibition Center

(Ticketed event—separate $40 fee and preregistration required.)

No single piece of nineteenth-century Boston's transportation system was more important than its harbor. So when Bostonians began expanding the city by filling the thousands of acres of tidal flats that surrounded their peninsula, many worried that such extensive landmaking might damage the harbor beyond repair. Bostonians therefore used their best understanding of the harbor's hydraulics to guide decisions about where to build seawalls, dredge the seafloor, and make new land. But they did not always understand the harbor as well as they thought, and their well-intentioned but sometimes misguided efforts hold important lessons for both historians and practitioners of public works today.

SPEAKER:

Michael J. Rawson, PhD, Assistant Professor, Brooklyn College (CUNY) Department of History, Harrison, NY
